MESSAGE FROM THE COMMANDING GENERAL

The Economic Impact Brochure is produced each year by MCRD Parris Island to show our economic impact to the surrounding communities. This brochure is intended to assist government officials, business leaders, civic organizations and local citizens in planning for future development. As one of our guiding principles at MCRD, we strive to foster positive relationships with our local communities to further our mutual interests and commitments. Our strategy to continue and expand community support services shows in our commitment to community service, civic development and our influence on the economic growth in the surrounding areas and South Carolina as a whole.

The information shown in this brochure demonstrates how the Marine Corps Recruit Depot continues to have a significant impact on the local economy. Parris Island's total economic impact to the state of South Carolina exceeded $409 million in Fiscal Year 2009.

As the Commanding General of MCRD Parris Island, I have had the opportunity to observe and participate in the productive relationship between the Depot, its tenant commands, our local communities and the state of South Carolina. The community rapport and economic interface that unite us are vital to accomplishing our mission. Your support of the Depot is recognized and appreciated. Together we can ensure that our mission is accomplished while providing the highest quality facilities, support, and services to the Marines, Sailors, Civilian Marines, and our families who live and work aboard the Depot.

J. M. PADILLA
